Christmas at the Biltmore

What began as my great-grandfather's estate continues to thrive as a timeless experience for today's guests. Since 1895, Biltmore has had the natural beauty of the mountains and the majestic house and gardens to beguile us, inspire us, and allow us to escape from the everyday.

Just as first envisioned, Biltmore is all about home—welcoming and celebrating family and friends, and extending the spirit of Biltmore beyond our 8,000 acres. It was true in 1895, and it remains true today.

Today, Biltmore House is a National Historic Landmark known as America's Largest Home. Before it became one of North Carolina's most popular tourist destinations, it was simply "home" to the Vanderbilt family.

From objects George Vanderbilt acquired during his many trips abroad to pieces commissioned by his descendants and beyond, the collection of more than 92,000 items housed at Biltmore is vast and varied.

Along with seeing and experiencing the Biltmore Estate and the Antler Village you will enjoy a tour of the Smokey Mountains, the Titanic Museum, and a Country Tonite Christmas Show.
